NON DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT

The Out Of Office Newsletter is the product of cumulative research and creative work undertaken by Hacène Dramchini, the Author. As such, all intellectual property rights belong to the Author.

This newsletter contains programming code designed to provide you, the Subscriber, with examples and useful tools. The code is and remains the property of the Author.

By subscribing to this newsletter you are bound by confidentiality. As such, any and all information contained in the newsletter is strictly confidential and you must not share it, either in whole or in part, with any third party through any medium without the prior written consent of the Author.

As a subscriber, you have the right to use the information and data contained in the newsletter on your own computers for your own personal and professional use.

If you sell or give away any computer containing such data, you must delete any content related directly or indirectly to Out Of Office Newsletter.

A breach of such confidentiality will lead to the immediate suspension of your subscription without refund, and legal proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction in the UK.

By paying the subscription fee you are acknowledging that you have read and understood this agreement and have accepted its terms.
